

Compromise of 1850 Writing Activity

Over the last couple of days we have covered the Mexican-American War and the after effects. Now the United States has acquired a great deal of land in the Mexican Cession and Congress is bitterly divided about how the states should be admitted to the Union. You are the President of the United States and your assignment is to come up with a plan that will please both the Northern and Southern states. Time is of the essence, members of Congress are talking about secession from the Union, you are needed now more than ever Mr./Mrs. President. Good Luck
