

What Would You Have Done?

Great Depression Activity

Today what you will be doing in class is an activity over the Great Depression. Through the last few days we have talked about the Great Depression and its causes, results, and frustrations that were felt by all Americans. It is 1932, and you are the President, so what I want you to do is type up a proposal that will help get the United States out of the Great Depression and restart the economy. Your paper must be at least 1½ pages long and can be double spaced, 12-point font.

Tell me these things:

- Why will this be effective?
- How will this work?
- All the programs in your proposal
- Why will the people support your plan?
